Dear Dr. Lederberg:

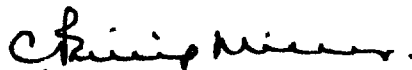

I enjoyed your lecture last Friday very much. You presented your material so clearly and logically that it must have been intelligible and convincing to everyone in your audience. I am terribly sorry that I was unable to hear your second lecture.

Thank you once again for coming to see me. I hope you will do so again the next time you are in Chicago.

I have got to go to Madison to give a lecture on Friday, December 2nd and should like to visit your laboratory while I am there, possibly the day before, that is Thursday, the 1st, if that will be convenient for you.

With best wishes, I am,

Very sincerely yours,

C. Phillip Miller
